

O'ahu Tropical Storm Olivia Evacuation Shelter List

While hurricane evacuation shelters offer some protection from high winds and flying debris, they are intended to be a last resort for residents and visitors without safer options. In most cases, the identified evacuation shelters HAVE NOT been designed or hardened for winds greater than a tropical storm. These shelters are, however, a safer option than remaining in areas prone to flooding or storm surge inundation, on exposed ridge lines, or in older homes with wood frames or single wall construction. The public should plan to shelter in place or stay with family or friends in homes that were designed, built, or renovated to withstand anticipated conditions, and are outside of these hazard areas, when possible.

Evacuees should not expect personal care attendants or caregivers to be available at evacuation shelters. Only general assistance and accommodations will be provided. In addition, evacuation shelters DO NOT stock supplies. You must bring your own food, water, and other emergency supplies with you.

Household pets entering a pet friendly shelter must be in a pet carrier or cage for safety and owners must provide water, food, and care for their pets.

SHELTERS WILL OPEN AT 8:00 P.M. TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 2018 AND REMAIN OPEN FOR THE DURATION OF THE THREAT
